Section 1 — How to Use This Guide

This guide is designed to help students and families prepare for the audition process. Through this guide you will:

- Learn about vocal music. What do vocal music programs entail? What can you expect as a vocal music student? See the description below for more information.

- Understand the audition process. The overview on page two will let you know what to expect at a high school audition.

- Review the Common Audition Components. High schools that participate in common audition components share the same audition guidelines. This guide includes the common audition components for participating vocal music programs.

- Prepare for the auditions. Learn about audition components and tips for doing your best during an audition.

- Build a list of vocal music programs that interest you. Browse this guide for a complete list of New York City high schools that offer programs to cultivate artistic talent. Use Section 6 to list the programs that look like a good fit for you and start creating your fall audition schedule.

- Create your audition schedule. Review the audition information and schedules for each program to plan your own audition calendar. For each program, there is a list of what to prepare for the audition, and what you will do at the audition.

What is Vocal Music?

Vocal music is performed by one or more singers, with or without instrumental accompaniment, in which singing provides the main focus of the piece. Vocal music students commonly study sight reading, music theory, music history and repertoire, and vocal technique, and gain an understanding of music's social and cultural impact. Students may take daily solo voice lessons and will participate in large ensembles and chorus classes. They may have performance opportunities throughout all four years of high school.

Section 2 — High School Audition Process Overview

Some high schools host auditions

An audition is a type of admissions method. To gain admission to certain high school arts programs, students must exhibit artistic skills at an audition. Auditions are also a great opportunity for students to meet school staff and ask questions about programs.

Students are expected to prepare and perform at an audition

Audition expectations will vary by high school program. Students should review the audition criteria that is published by schools in the High School Directory. If a student is auditioning for multiple programs focusing on the same art form, many audition components will be similar across the auditions (see program details in this guide for audition information). Students should note that they may not get to present everything that they have prepared for the audition.

Auditions are run by high schools

Typically auditions are run by school administrators and teachers. Some high schools have their current students assist with welcoming auditioning students and their families.

Audition dates, arrival times and locations may vary

Auditions are usually held at high schools from October to January. See program details in this guide for audition schedules.

Audition lengths may vary

The audition process can take 2-3 hours or longer. Students are encouraged to bring a light snack and water to auditions. Families should not register for auditions at multiple schools on the same day.

Families can wait nearby

There is often a designated waiting area for parents/guardians, as they are not allowed in the audition areas. Parents/guardians may choose to leave and re-enter the school building at any time. Communication between the student and their families should be made prior to the beginning of the audition process.

Acceptance to audition programs

In order to be considered for audition programs, students must also list the program on their High School Admissions Round 1 Application, which is due to their school counselor on December 3, 2018. Students will receive the results of the Round 1 Application in March.

Questions about the audition process

This guide should answer most of your questions about the audition process. If you have specific questions about a school's audition, it's best to call or email the school directly for more information or visit the school website.

Audition accommodations

Students with individualized education programs (IEPs), approved 504 plans, and English Language Learners, may receive accommodations. Students should speak with their school counselor to arrange accommodations for auditions.

Section 3 — Audition Registration and Common Audition Components

Below is some vocabulary about the audition process that families will need to learn as they prepare for auditions. These terms will also be found throughout the table in section five of this guide.

Registration for Auditions

Students may be required to register for auditions through the DOE's enrollment system or through school websites. Registration details are listed in this guide and in the High School Directory on audition school pages. By registering, students let school administrators know that they are attending the audition, and what program they are auditioning for.

Programs with Common Audition Components

A select group of schools have programs that offer common audition components, which are indicated by the ★ icon next to the school name in section five of this document. These programs all share the same audition components so if students prepare for one they may be ready to audition at another participating program.

Common Audition Components – Vocal Music Programs
You can also find this information on Page 24 of the 2019 New York City High School Directory

Perform a song that you have prepared and bring the sheet music in your key. Song recommendations may also be listed on school websites. Vocal singers will also be asked to repeat vocal phrases to test rhythm, tonal memory, and basic vocal technique. Ability to incorporate directions from teachers will be considered.

Programs may have different "tests" that they offer on-site, including an interview, or on-demand writing sample, which may impact your preparation. Please read each school's audition information in this document. Also be sure to visit the school webpage, or contact the school directly for the most up-to-date details.

Section 4 — How To Prepare for a Vocal Music Audition

How to Prepare for a Vocal Music Audition

Selecting and Practicing Your Audition Repertoire

- Try to choose your repertoire well in advance of the audition.
- Select music that is written specifically for your solo voice (not music for which your vocal part provides the harmony for instruments or other voices).
- Select music that highlights your strengths. A difficult selection sung well can show off your skills. However, an easier selection sung with strong musicality and good intonation can be equally impressive.
- Isolate and practice your weak areas. Spend time building your capacity so that all sections of your piece are performed with equal competency.
- Use a tuner and a metronome during the early stages of your practice to help with pitch and rhythm.
- Practice performing your audition repertoire in front of an audience. Ask them to critique your performance and overall presentation.
- Practice sight reading every day.

Vocal Audition

- Prepare at least two pieces in contrasting styles from memory. However, you may not be asked to sing a second selection.
- Choose songs from musical theater productions, American traditions, world-folk traditions, or art song collections. Note: Most schools discourage performing R&B, rock, and rap selections for the audition. Check each school's preferences.
- Be prepared to match pitches, echo rhythms and melodies provided by the adjudicator.
- Be prepared to vocalize (arpeggios, leaps, runs, etc.) to demonstrate vocal range and placement.

General Audition Advice

- Keep going even if you make a mistake. Do not get flustered. The adjudicator is most interested in determining your potential.
- If the adjudicator asks you to change the way you performed a passage, it doesn't necessarily mean you played or sang it incorrectly. He or she may wish to see how readily you are able to receive feedback and/or make a correction.

Resources for Selecting your Repertoire

- Ask your music teacher for help when selecting repertoire. Your teacher may have the New York State School Music Association Manual, Edition 31, a professional resource for teachers and conductors that contains graded lists of repertoire for all voice types and instruments, and you can review this manual with your teacher to select your repertoire. This manual is also available in some libraries and may also be purchased online.
- You may be able to purchase sheet music for your repertoire online or at stores selling musical instruments and sheet music such as Sam Ash Music, The Guitar Center, or Catalano Music. (The NYCDOE does not endorse any particular store, and examples of specific stores are provided for informational purposes only.)
